

Acknowledgements

I wish to place on record my heartfelt gratitude to the following individuals for contributing to the successful completion of my thesis:

Dr. K. K. Sujatha, my guide and research supervisor, for her unstinted support, encouragement, direction and guidance. Her infinite patience, understanding and ever obliging nature made working with her a great pleasure. I'm greatly indebted to her for setting aside her busy schedule and sparing time for me whenever I needed her help. She has been an invaluable source of strength for me during this project

The Librarians and staff of the University library, University of Calicut, the University Library, Thiruvananthapuram, The British Council Library, Thiruvananthapuram, the library of the Institute of English, Thiruvananthapuram. The libraries of the University College and Govt. College for Women, Thiruvananthapuram.

Prof. Sebastian K. F., Head of the Research Centre, Dept. of English, St. Thomas College, Thrissur for all the help extended to me.

Dr. Prathibha without whose help my thesis would have been just a dream.

Dr. Thomas Kuruvilla for his valuable suggestions and support.

My friend Dr. G. Vijaylekshmi for patiently going through the manuscript, correcting mistakes and giving me valuable suggestions.

My friend Prof. Krishnaprabha whose constant help, support and encouragement have been a driving force all through the writing of this thesis.

My friend Dr. B.S. Jamuna for helping me to procure the material I wanted and for her words of encouragement.

My dear friends and colleagues Prof. Sudha Devi Nair, Prof. Ragini Nair and my dear student Dr. R. Kamala for their constant support and encouragement. Their words of inspiration have gone a long way in the completion of this thesis. Words will not suffice to express my gratitude to them.

My friend and colleague Prof. Chribuna Viswas for helping me to procure the material I wanted from the Internet and also for helping me with the documentation.

My friend and colleague Prof. S. Badra for helping me with the documentation and also for her valuable suggestions.

My friend Dr. Beena Gopinath who has always stood by me and encouraged me.

My friend Prof. K. Gopalakrishnan and Prof. Mohandas for their encouragement and support.

All my friends and colleagues in the Dept. of English, University College, Thiruvananthapuram, for their support and encouragement.

My parents for their love and understanding and for instilling in me invaluable moral and spiritual strength throughout my life

My in-laws, especially my mother-in-law (who is with us no more) who always wanted me to complete my thesis and encouraged me to do so.

My sister Mariam Mathews for giving me confidence and inspiration and for strengthening my faith in God.

My brother Jacob George for having faith in me and convincing me at every stage of the writing of this thesis that I could do it.

My cousin Shirley and her husband Kuruvila Abraham for taking pains to procure the material on Marowitz all the way from the US.

My niece Arpita for her words of encouragement.

My husband Prof. N. Jayakumar without whose help I would not have been able to submit my thesis on time. I thank him for his patience, love, understanding and unstinted support and for bearing with my lapses as a wife.

My daughters Anjali and Amrita for their love and encouragement, for patiently typing out my thesis for me and for bearing with my lapses as a mother.

Sri. Anil, Ancy Computers, Vazhuthacaud, for the layouting of the work.

And finally to the Lord Almighty for making the impossible possible.

Dedicated to My Sister

For Making Me What I Am

The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion; slow to anger, and of great mercy.

The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.

(Psalm 145: 8-9)

O give thanks unto the Lord; for he is good:

For his mercy endureth for ever

(Psalm 118: 29)
