

Declaration

I, Nimisha K. Jayan do hereby declare that the thesis entitled Gender, Space and Performance: A Study of the Visual Narratives of Kodungallur Bharani Festival submitted to the University of Calicut for the award of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in English is a record of the bonafide research carried out by me under the guidance of Dr. C. S Biju and that no part of the thesis has been submitted for the award of any degree, diploma or any other similar title before.

Place: Thrissur

Date: 27-07-2020

Nimisha K. Jayan

Research Scholar

Department of English

St. Thomas' College, Thrissur

Acknowledgments

This research has been a learning experience and it has benefitted from various people and spaces. The period has been marked by standstills and momentum, pleasure, and pain contributing to the memories it is linked with. I would like to thank everyone who has made this long journey possible.

First of all, I would like to thank my research supervisor, Dr. C. S Biju, Associate Professor, St. Thomas' College, Thrissur for his patient guidance, enthusiasm, and cordiality. I gratefully acknowledge his un-interfering methodologies encouraging individuality and the timely interventions guiding through perplexing times.

I am grateful to Dr. Joy K. L, the principal of St. Thomas' College for his prompt support. I also thank Dr. Anto Thomas, HOD, Department of English, St. Thomas' College, Thrissur and Dr. Joby, Research Coordinator of the college for their encouraging endeavors and affable presence.

Thanks to other teachers of the Department of English, for extending their support and guidance. Along with them, I wholeheartedly thank Dr. Janaki Sreedharan, Associate Professor, Department of English, University of Calicut, for her valuable thoughts and suggestions. I also thank Dr. N. J Francis, Associate Professor, Sree Sankaracharya University of Sanskrit, Kalady and Dr. Anilkumar P. V, Assistant Professor, Government Victoria College, for their advice and help.

I happily acknowledge the assistance extended by the library staff during the period of research work.

I am deeply grateful to Shibu Swamy from Palakkad, the head of the Velichapadu Sangam and his family members, and the innumerable oracles for the love and affection they showered on me. Without their guidance, a movement through the intricate web of rituals would not have been possible. Also, my thanks are due to Anil K. N for the guidance and his help in accessing certain important texts and Gireesh for the wonderful video coverage of Bharani.

Thanks to my friends Shani and Soumya for their inspiration, love, and the warm moments.

Remembering my father who had immense trust in me. Thanks to my mother and brother for their unwavering love and inspiration.

Recalling the support of my husband and his family. Love to Aarav who managed infinite times without me.

Nimisha K. Jayan

Dedication

To my father

A Note on Documentation

I, hereby, would like to acknowledge that the documentation in the thesis is prepared in accordance with the style format suggested by the MLA Handbook (8th Edition).

Contents

Introduction	1
Chapter One
Kodungallur Bharani: History, Rituals and Narratives	15
Chapter Two
Performance and Conflict	93
Chapter Three
Bodies in Performance: Gender and Power	145
Chapter Four
Visuality and Space: The Politics of Seeing and Being	195
Chapter Five
Language, Abuse and Ribald Bharani Songs	237
Conclusion	281
Works Cited	295
Appendix	317